REPORTED REVOLT IN JOHNSTON'S ARMY

REPORTS FROM CHATTANOOGA.

CHATTANOOGA, Friday, Feb. 12.

Gen. LOGAN, left Huntsville, Ala., some days ago with the Fifteenth Army Corps, to act in connection with Gen. SHERMAN.

The cavalry expedition under GRIERSON and SMITH crossed the country from Corinth, moving southwardly.

It is understood that these columns are intended to act in conjunction—the one to attack, and the other cut off POLK'S retreat and disperse the cavalry of FORREST, reported as scouring Central and Northern Mississippi.

There is no reason to doubt, though beyond this enterprise the combinations are merely conjectural, but that a great flank movement on JOHNSTON'S army is intended.

The army at Chattanooga is by this time in motion for Tunnel Hill and Dalton. Its movements may have been delayed by circumstances unknown to us, but it is under marching orders.

A dispatch from Chattanooga of the same date to the Cincinnati Gazette says:

"There was a great affray in JOHNSTON'S army on the 9th. The Second Kentucky Regiment refused in a body to be conscripted, and were placed under guard of the Third Alabama. Col. WOODWARD, Maj. LEWIS and three Captains of the Second Kentucky fired revolvers into the Alabama men, killing and wounding forty-two. Both regiments broke in disorder.

Thirteen deserters arrived yesterday, including Lieut. CHARLES ALLEN, formerly of STONEWALL JACKSON'S staff. Ten hundred and twenty-seven deserters came into our lines during January.

CHEATHAM'S Tennessee Division has gone South to keep the men from deserting.

REPORTS FROM NASHVILLE.

CINCINNATI, Monday, Feb. 15.

A Nashville dispatch to the Gazette gives the following official news:

Gen. SHERMAN entered Jackson, Miss., on the 5th instant. The rebels offered but little resistance, and are falling back over Pearl River.

It is believed that the rebels are receiving reinforcements from Dalton.

There is nothing new from Gen. THOMAS' front.

The veteran soldiers are rapidly returning to the army.

REPORTS FROM CAIRO.

CAIRO, Ill., Monday, Feb. 15.

The reports from rebel papers of a fight near Clinton, Miss., on the 4th inst., are confirmed by officers just from that point.

Our troops charged the rebel battery, and lost fifteen killed and thirty wounded.

Among the wounded is Col. ROGERS, of Illnois.

The enemy were driven off, and our forces proceeded toward Jackson.

CAIRO, Monday, Feb. 15.

Gen. W. S. SMITH'S cavalry expedition left Memphis on the 11th inst., in the direction of Collierville. The entire line of the Memphis and Charleston Railroad was evacuated by our forces on the 13th, it having been held for the past six months, merely to aid Gen. SMITH'S cavalry expedition to get a good start. Gen. SHERMAN considers that the holding and garrisoning the road has been a source of weakness to us. He does not favor guarding railroads, unless they are of vital importance.

CAIRO, Monday, Feb. 15.

Gen. SHERMAN'S headquarters are reported to have been at Jackson, on the 7th. He has since been heard of at Brandon.

FROM THE SOUTH.

A Manifesto from Jeff. Davis—Bills Passed by the Rebel Congress—Restrictions Laid on Commerce.

Richmond papers af Feb. 10 contain the following interesting matter:

A PROCLAMATION BY JEFF. DAVIS.

AN APPEAL TO THE REBEL ARMIES.

Soldiers of the Armies of the Confederate States:

In the long and bloody war in which your country is engaged you have achieved many noble triumphs. You have won glorious victories over vastly more numerous hosts. You have cheerfully borne privations and toil to which you were unused. You have readily submitted to restraints upon your individual will, that the citizen might better perform his duty to the State as a soldier. To all these you have lately added another triumph—the noblest of human conquests—a victory over yourselves. As the time drew near when you who first entered the service might well have been expected to claim relief from your arduous labors and restoration to the endearments of home, you have heeded only the call of your suffering country. Again you come to tender your service for the public defence—a free offering, which only such patriotism as yours could make—a triumph worthy of you and of the cause to which you are devoted.

I would in vain attempt adequately to express the emotions with which I received the testimonials of confidence and regard which you have recently addressed to me. To some of those first received separate acknowledgments were returned; but it is now apparent that a like generous enthusiasm pervades the whole army, and that the only exception to such magnanimous tender will be of those who, having originally entered for the war, cannot display anew their zeal to the public service. It is, therefore, deemed appropriate, and it is hoped it will be equally acceptable, to make a general acknowledgment, instead of successive special responses. Would that it were possible to render my thanks to you in person, and in the name of our common country, as well as in my own, while pressing the hand of each warworn veteran, to recognize his title to our love, gratitude and admiration.

Soldiers—By your will—for you and the people are but one—I have been placed in a position which debars me from sharing your dangers, your sufferings and your privations in the field. With pride and affection my heart has accompanied you in every march; with solicitude it has sought to minister to your every want; with exultation it has marked your every heroic achievement; yet never in the toilsome march, nor in the weary watch, nor in the desperate assault have you rendered a service so decisive in results as in the last display of the highest qualities of devotion and self-sacrifice which can adorn the character of the warrior patriot. Already the pulse of the whole people beats in unison with yours; already they compare your spontaneous and unanimous offer of your lives for the defence of your country with the halting and reluctant service of the mercenaries who are purchased by the enemy at the price of higher bounties than have hitherto been known in war. Animated by this contrast, they exhibit cheerful confidence and more resolute bearing. Even the murmurs of the weak and timid, who shrink from the trials which make stronger and firmer your noble natures, are shamed into silence by the spectacle which you present. Your brave battle cry will ring loud and clear through the land of the enemy, as well as our own; will silence the vain-glorious boastings of their corrupt partisans and their pensioned press, and will do justice to the calumny by which they seek to persuade a deluded people that you are ready to purchase dishonorable safety by degrading submission.

Soldiers—The coming Spring campaign will open under auspices well calculated to sustain your hopes. Your resolution needed nothing to fortify it. With ranks replenished under the influence of your example, and by the aid of representatives who give earnest of their purpose to add by legislation largely to your strength, you may welcome the invader with a confidence justified by the memory of past victories. On the other hand, debt, taxation, repetition of heavy drafts, dissensions occasioned by the strife for power, by the pursuit of the spoils of office, by the taint for the plunder of the public treasury, and, above all, the consciousness of a bad cause, must tell with fearful force upon the overstrained energies of the enemy. His campaign of 1864 must, from the exhaustion of his resources of men and money, be far less formidable than those of the last two years, when unimpaired means were used with boundless prodigality, and with results which are suggested by the mention of the names of Shiloh, Perryville, Murfreesboro' and the Chickahominy, Manassas, Fredericksburgh and Chancellorsville.

Soldiers—Assured success awaits us in our struggle for liberty and independence, and for the preservation of all that renders life desirable to honorable men. When that success shall be reached, to you, your country's hope and pride, under Divine Providence, will it be due. The fruits of that success will not be reaped by you alone; but your children and your children's children in long generations to come will enjoy the blessings derived from you that will preserve your memory ever living in their hearts.

Citizen defenders of the homes, the liberties and altars of the Confederacy—That the God whom we all humbly worship may shield you with His fatherly care, and preserve you for safe return to the peaceful enjoyment of your friends and the associations of those you most love, is the earnest prayer of your Commander-in-Chief, JEFFERSON DAVIS.

THE REBEL CONGRESS.

RESTRICTIONS OF COMMERCE.

From the Richmond Enquirer, Feb. 10.

The President yesterday approved the following bills of Congress, passed in secret session:

A Bill to Impose Restrictions upon Foreign Commerce.—This bill prohibits the exportation of cotton, tobacco, naval and military stores, molasses, sugar or rice, under the penalty of forfeiture of any vessel or vehicle or any slaves or animals engaged in the transportation thereof. Permits to export may be granted under rules which may be prescribed by the President.

The bill also prohibits the sending of any of the above named articles to any point in the Confederacy in possession of the enemy.

A violation of this law comes within the category of high misdemeanor, and is punishable by fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the Confederate States Courts.

A bill to Prohibit the Importation of Luxuries into the Confederate States.—This bill prohibits the importation of luxuries, of which a long list is enumerated, after the first day of March next. A provision in the bill empowers the Secretary of the Treasury to fix the maximum of foreign prices at which or within which all goods made wholly or partly of cotton, flax, wool or silk may be imported. This is designed to insure the importation of articles of prime necessity and common use.

We mention in this connection that the Senate has passed a bill to establish a Bureau of Foreign Supplies. The injunction of secresy has been removed from the bill so far as the Senate is concerned, but it is being considered in secret session by the House of Representatives.

THE NORTH CAROLINA BLOCKADE.

Four Blockade-Runners Destroyed.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Feb. 15.

The Navy Department has received the following:

NEWPORT'S NEWS, Feb. 14.

Hon. Gideon Welles, Secretary of the Navy:

The Pequot has arrived, and brings the report of the destruction of four blockade-running steamers, viz.: The Nutfield, on the 4th of February, by the Sassacus; the Dee, Feb. 5, by the Cambridge; the Emily, Fanny and Jenny, on the 10th, by the Florida.

S. P. LEE, Acting Rear Admiral.

The Nutfield is an iron paddle-wheel steamer of about 400 tons—a new, fine and powerful boat. She sailed from London in December last, with pork, biscuit, &c.

The Dee is a double-screw iron steamer, built especially for the Southern trade, at London. She is a new vessel of light draft, and is said to have made eighteen or twenty miles an hour. The Fanny & Jenny is the old prize Scotia, captured in October, 1862, condemned and sold to outside parties, not being considered fit for naval service.

Her name was changed to General Banks. She was taken to Halifax, and sailed from there in July, 1863, to engage in blockade-running, under the name of Fanny & Jenny.

The Emily is a new screw steamer, built in London last Fall, and owned by BIGBEE. She is a handsome boat, of about five hundred tons burden.

The Department of North Carolina.

ORDER BY GEN. PECK.

ARMY AND DISTRICT OF NORTH CAROLINA, NEWBERN, N. C., Feb. 10, 1864.

GENERAL ORDERS, NO. 15.—The Commanding-General, learning of the desperate advance of the rebel hordes upon his lines in quest of bread, meat, clothing and plunder, gave up his leave of absence and has returned to his command, not so much from doubt of the ability of the troops to hurl back the enemy, as to share with them the honors, toils and privations of the opening campaign.

He returns his thanks to Gen. PALMER, and Cols. JOURDAN, AMORY and CLAASSEN, and to all the officers and men of their commands, for the gallant repulse of Maj.-Gen. PICKETT with more than twice their numbers. The moment was seized upon for executing a long and well-prepared plan, when many of the troops were on furlough as veterans. On this occasion the enemy found, by bitter experience, that all our men were veterans.

Those regiments that were with the Commanding General during the siege of Suffolk, have earned fresh laurels in this late triumph over the troops of Pickett, Armistead, Kemper and Hoke; their old adversaries under Longstreet and Hill.

By command of Maj.-Gen. PECK.

BENJAMIN B. FOSTER, A. A. G.

OUR NEW-ORLEANS CORRESPONDENCE.

Arrival of the Arago with Three Batteries.

NEW-ORLEANS, Saturday, Feb. 6, 1864.

The Government steam transport ship Arago, arrived here last night from New-York and Baltimore. She brought from the latter city, consigned to Gen. BANKS, three batteries of field artillery—the First Delaware Battery, the Second Connecticut Battery, and the Seventh Massachusetts Battery. The guns are superb-looking pieces (ten-pounders,) and the men who work them, nearly five hundred in number, are as fine a looking body of soldiers as ever wore the blue. The officers of all these batteries are not only distinguished for their professional accomplishments and intelligence, but are all remarkable for their handsome figures. I believe, however, that your citizens had an opportunity to see each of these batteries, with their officers and men, during the time of the enforcement of the draft last summer, so nothing further need be said regarding them. The Arago has had an excellent voyage, and has met with her usual good fortune. This vessel is one of the "regular liners" between New-York and Hilton Head, and the only comer to this department now on special service.

Arrival of Cotton.

CAIRO, Monday, Feb. 15.

The steamer Lady Franklin, from Memphis, passed here to-day, bound to Cincinnati with nearly 500 bales of cotton.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE N. Y. TIMES.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Feb. 15.

THE PRESIDENT'S EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION.

The Select Committee on freedmen has decided to report a bill legalizing the President's Emancipation Proclamation. Senator SUMNER submitted a portion of his draft of a report on the repeal on the Fugitive Slave Law, which will review the whole question. It is a stinging paper.

THE ABOLITION OF SLAVERY.

The silent passage of ARNOLD'S resolution for an amendment of the Constitution to abolish Slavery throughout the United States, by a majority of sixteen in a thin house, presages the most important act of legislation in the history of the Government. A majority of over forty-five representatives can be commanded for the measure on a full vote.

GEN. BUTLER'S LIQUOR REGULATIONS.

Gen. BUTLER has knocked drunkard-making and row-producing in his department sky high. He has issued an order forbidding the sale of liquor to be drank on the premises under the penalty of fine and imprisonment at hard labor. Liquors may be sold to be carried away by duly authorized druggists upon the prescription of licensed physicians and by duly authorized hotel-keepers to guests, to be used in their rooms or at meals. Also by duly authorized grocers to be carried away in quantities not less than a quart nor more than five gallons, or two cases bottled to any one person or family, within any period of ten days. Persons authorized to sell are required to keep a record to whom, with his residence and occupation, time when, quantity, price and kind of liquor sold at each sale. The record to be kept open to public inspection. The possession of liquor, contrary to BUTLER'S order, will be punished by confiscation of the stock in trade and imprisonment at hard labor. No sale of liquor, to be carried away, will be permitted to enlisted men in the land or naval service, without an order from the Commander of the post.

No sales will be allowed, on any pretext, on board of any transport vessel or boat in the service of the Government, under penalty of forfeiture of charter and earnings under it, and imprisonment of persons making the sale. No transportation of liquors willbe had upon any vessel without a permit from headquarters, and ignorance of the master of the transport of the contents of the packages will not be an answer or excuse for violating the order. The provost guard is required to arrest and put in the guard-house, and report to headquarters any officer, whatever may be his rank, who shall appear by day or night in the public streets or squares of any town in BUTLER'S department, occupied by the United States troops, in a state of intoxication.

REBEL ESTATES IN GEN. BUTLER'S DEPARTMENT.

Gen. BUTLER has ordered that all estates in his department abandoned or now occupied by rebels shall be turned over by the military commanders to be taken possession of by the Superintendent of negro affairs or treasury agents.

GEN. SLOUGH'S COMMAND.

A visit paid by the War Committee on Saturday to Gen. SLOUGH'S command at Alexandria, discovered among other things a fruitful system of imposing fines on wrong-doing Alexandrians, but did not discover any application of the money thus collected. The committee returned not charmed with Gen. SLOUGH'S government of contrabands.

SCOTT'S NINE HUNDRED.

All the officers of SCOTT'S nine hundred cavalry have united in an application to Gov. SEYMOUR of New-York to commission Maj. J. P. SHERBURNE, of the regular infantry, as the Colonel of the regiment.

THE TAX BILL.

The Tax Bill will be voted on in the House to-morrow. An effort will probably be made to amend the Whisky Clause by increasing the tax on stocks on hand to one dollar. The speeches to-day, in favor of Senate amendments, were powerful and persuasive. The close of the debate left the impression that the House will accept the Senate's tax of sixty cents on the gallon, by a majority as large as eight, and, perhaps, ten.

THE SUPREME COURT.

Judge WAYNE announced to-day that the Supreme Court would end on the first of May. AMOS KENDALL argued his claim against the United States in the Court of Claims with all the vigor of youth.

ARREST OF THE PROVOST-MARSHAL AT WASHINGTON.

Capt. TODD, Provost-Marshal of this District, has been relieved from duty and placed under arrest. There are various rumors afloat as to the cause of his arrest.

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON, Monday, Feb. 15.

THE VALLANDIGHAM CASE—A WRIT OF CERTIORARI DENIED.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Feb. 15.

The case of VALLANDIGHAM, ex parte, was decided in the Supreme Court of the United States to-day. The petitioner asked that the writ of certiorari be directed to the Judge-Advocate-General for a revision of the proceedings of the military commission which tried him, the jurisdiction of which was denied, as extending to the case of a civilian, the object being to have the sentence annulled on the ground of illegality.

Judge-Advocate-General HOLT had responded in a written argument that the court might with as much propriety be called upon to restrain by injunction the proceedings of Congress, as to revise by certiorari, and reverse the proceedings of the military authority in time of war, in the punishment of all military offences according to the usage of civilized nations, and the power given by the Constitution and laws of the United States for the common defence and public safety.

Justice WAYNE to-day delivered the opinion of the Court, refusing the writ on the ground that even if the arrest, trial and punishment of VALLANDIGHAM were illegal, there was still no authority in the court to grant relief in this mode, and there is no law by which any appeal, or proceedings in the nature of an appeal, from a military commission to the Supreme Covrt can be taken.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT FOR DAMAGES DONE BY THE ARMY.

Representative HALE, of Pennsylvania, and Senator DAVIS, of Kentucky, have severally introduced bills, similar in substance, and which are before the Committee on Claims in both Houses, to provide for ascertaining and adjusting claims against the Government for injury or destruction of property by the Army of the United States, or by military authority, during the present rebellion.

These bills provide for the appointment of one Commissioner and one Solicitor of Claims for the district composed of the States of Maryland, Pennsylvania, the District of Columbia and Virginia; one Commissioner and one Solicitor for the district composed of the States of West Virginia, Ohio and Indiana: one Commissioner and one Solicitor for the district composed of the States of Tennessee and Kentucky; and one Commissioner and one Solicitor for the district composed of the States of Illinois, Missouri and Kansas; and one Commissioner and one Solicitor for those States not included in the foregoing districts.

The Commissioners are severally to have cognizance of all claims against the United States arising in their respective districts, and which shall be presented to them by any person, who during the present rebellion has sustained, or may sustain damages by injury to or destruction of any property which has been or may be injured or destroyed by the use or occupation of the army of the United States, or any division or portion thereof, or by any military authority; provided, that all existing claims embraced in the provisions of this act not presented for adjustment within three years from the passage of this act, and all subsequent claims not presented for adjustment within three years from the time such claims may or shall accrue, shall be forever barred. It is made the duty of the Commissioners also to inquire and take testimony as to the loyalty of every person who has sustained loss or damage to his or her property during the present rebellion, and who may present their claims under this act; and as to whether the said persons in any manner supported or favored the rebellion against or resistance to the laws of the United States. And no person who has engaged, or shall at any time engage in the present rebellion against the Government of the United States, or been at any time hostile to such Government, or given aid and comfort to those engaged in the rebellion, shall derive any benefit under this act.

THE TARIFF ACT.

The bill reported from the Committee of Ways and Means to-day authorizes the entry for consumption, until June next, of any goods which have been in bonded warehouse more than one year, and which are required by the present law to be exported. The bill also corrects an error of the Tariff of 1862, so that registered vessels in the coasting trade may be placed on the same footing, in respect to tonnage duty, as enrolled vessels.

DEATH OF CAPT. A. RAMSAY.

Capt. RAMSAY was on the famous Richmond during all her fights on the Mississippi, before and after the running of the forts, and was recommended for three brevets. His disease was confluent small-pox. He had been in fifteen engagements during the war.

THE FRENCH OCCUPATION OF MEXICO.

Rumors as to an intended protest by our Government against the French occupation of Mexico are certainly not well founded. The policy of the Government on this subject is fully explained in the lately published diplomatic correspondence.

UNIFORM SYSTEM OF BANKRUPTCY.

Mr. JENCKES, of Rhode Island, (Union,) from the Special Committee, reported a bill establishing a uniform system of bankruptcy. It was ordered to be printed and recommitted.

THE INCREASE OF THE INTERNAL REVENUE.

Mr. STEVENS, from the Committee on Ways and Means, reported back the Senate's amendments to the House bill for increasing the internal revenue, and for other purposes.

Mr. STEVENS explained the difference between the bill as it passed the House, and the Senate's amendments, maintaining that the latter were preferable to what had been agreed upon by the House, as to the tax on spirits, and the date it was to go into effect. The House, he said, ought to accept the Senate's amendments, because they were consistent with the principles heretofore declared by legislation, namely—that taxes should be prospective on all articles. The committee were of opinion that a pledge to this effect had been given to the country, and manufacturers had a right to rely upon it as a basis of their business. As a revenue measure, the bill from the Senate was much better than that of the House. The amount of spirits on hand, which the House proposed to tax, did not amount to more than two hundred thousand barrels, or about ten millions of gallons. This, at forty cents per gallon, would produce four millions of dollars. But nobody who had seen the operation of the tax law could suppose that not more than half this quantity would be taxed, yielding two millions of dollars. On the other hand, the Senate bill, after the 1st of January next, would yield fourteen or fifteen millions of dollars.

FERNANDO WOOD, of New-York, (Dem.,) replied, saying the effect of the motion of Mr. STEVENS to concur in the Senate's amendments, was, practically, to restrict the revenue proposed to be raised by the bill. This was a most extraordinary proposition, coming from the quarter it did. Those whose duty it was to protect the public interests had not buttonholed the Committee on Finance. This was done by those who thronged the city looking after their own private interests. So far from there being only 200,000 barrels of spirits on hand, he (WOOD) knew three gentlemen in New-York, neither of whom was a speculative trader, who had almost half of that quantity on hand. Instead of the spirits on hand yielding only four millions, it, the tax, would produce ten millions of dollars.

THE GOVERNMENT OF CERTAIN STATES.

Mr. DAVIS, of Md., (Union,) from the Select Committee on Insurrectionary States, reported a bill, which was ordered to be printed, giving to certain States, whose Governments have been usurped or overthrown, a Republican form of Government.

(Among other things, it provides for the appointment of Provisional Governors, charged with the civil administration of the States until the State Governments can, by means of elections, be reëstablished. All slaves within the territory are declared free, and any person hereafter in the rebel public service is declared not to be a citizen of the United States.)

The House then adjourned.

Fire in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Monday, Feb. 15.

A fire broke out this afternoon at No. 38 Second-street, above Chestnut, and extended to Strawberry-street. It commenced accidantally in the kerosene oil establishment of GEO. W. WOOTTEN, and extended to J. C. WEEDEN'S paper warehouse. Loss $25,000, partially insured in the Philadelphia offices and the Royal Insurance Office, London, but principally in the Ætna Office, New-Haven, Conn. The only damage to the adjoining buildings was caused by water.

From Newbern.

The U. S. steam transport Decatur, Capt. FARGO, from Newbern, N. C., brought on sixty-two passengers. Among which were thirty-seven rebel soldiers, who were immediately set at liberty upon their arrival in the City.

THE STATE RECRUITING OFFICE IN THE PARK.—Recruiting was brisker at the Park Recruiting Office yesterday than it has been for some time past. From the returns made up to Saturday night it appears that 5,180 volunteers have been recruited, and 1,821 veterans have reënlisted, making a total of 7,001. Leaving a deficiency in the quota of New-York County (viz., 18,000) of 10,999 which has to be filled by March 1. The present average rate of enlistments is about 250 per day, which will amount in 14 days, or on Feb. 28, to 3,500, leaving a balance of 7,599 to be filled by drafting, when no further bounties will be paid.

MARINE COURT—TRIAL TERM.

Before Judge Hearne.

Joseph C. Gilmore vs. Francis J. Heurtel.—The defendant in this case lived at No. 630 Broadway, and kept a dog. The plaintiff alleges that defendant's dog was a large dog, of ferocious and cannibal propensities; that he was extremely unfriendly to mankind in general and to plaintiff in particular; that he was accustomed to growl, to bite, and to tear people's pantaloons; that defendant well knew these vicious propensities of his said dog, and still suffered him to go at large; that some time in July, 1861, defendant's dog bit plaintiff and tore his pantaloons; that, again, in October, 1862, defendant's dog bit plaintiff and tore his pantaloons; that plaintiff and his pantaloons were greatly damaged, and he claims the sum of $5 06 to indemnify him for his sufferings and loss.

The defendant denies the allegation of the complaint and says that the dog was a very sweet-tempered dog indeed, that at the time complained of, plaintiff was the aggressor, and first beat and ill-treated the dog, beat him and struck him in a vicious manner, and so provoked the dog that dog-nature could not stand it, and he turned and rent the pantaloons of plaintiff. A great deal of testimony was taken, principally as to the good character of the dog, and to the provocation given by the plaintiff.

Wm. W. Northrop for plaintiff; Mott Murray and Harris for defendant.

Action to Recover Brokerage—The "Margin" Question Again.

SUPREME COURT—TRIAL TERM.

Before Justice Smith.

R. H. Johnson vs. W. H. Flandron.—The plaintiff was a stock broker in this City, and alleges that as such broker in February, 1858, he purchased for the defendant, at his request, 500 shares of Harlem Railroad stock, and that subsequently he sold said shares for account of said defendant, and that defendant agreed to pay him $50 as brokerage. That he has not paid, and plaintiff brings suit for that sum and interest. The defendant claims that he paid to the plaintiff, on account of the above transaction, for his (defendant's) use, the sum of $1,015, and that defendant has never received any of said money back, but plaintiff has applied the same to his own use, and defendant claims judgment against plaintiff for this amount and interest. The evidence showed that plaintiff, as broker, bought the stock for defendant, and carried it for him; that the $1,015 was deposited as margin; that the stock was sold at a loss, and the margin was swallowed up.

Verdict for the plaintiff.

W. H. Dickerson, for plaintiff; Gen. Sandford, for defendant.

In Philadelphia, according to this day's North American, "There is a little better feeling on the part of holders generally, but the market for domestic is quiet, and the sales moderate, reaching about 180,000 lbs., within the range of 78c.@85c. for low grade to medium and fine fleece and tub. Buyers are not disposed to operate to any extent at these rates, and there has been more doing in low-priced foreign wool, which is offered at comparatively low prices, and large sales are reported, including 250,000 lbs. at from 40c. to 58c. ℔ lb., the former for unwashed"..... In 1857, the whole amount of Wool shipped from California was 55 bales of common coarse Wool, worth 6c., 8c. or 10c. In 1863, the clip was over 50,000 bales, at an average of 25c. ℔ lb.

Production of Naval Stores in California.

Messrs. HUCKS & LAMBERT, of San Francisco, furnish the following in reference to the manufacture of California turpentine and resin, as mainly correct: The quantity of "crude gum" collected in Butte and Sierra Counties, from the beginning of March till the end of November last year was, more or less, 350,000 pounds. From this has been manufactured 7,250 gallons of spirits of turpentine, and boxes and barrels of resin equal to 1,150 barrels, of an average weight of 250 pounds.

There has been three distilleries in operation during the season. J. L. GIBSON, of Forbestown, Butte County, has produced from his still over 3,000 gallons of turpentine and 500 bbls. or boxes of resin. The balance has been manufactured partly by JOHN HART, of Marysville, (lately deceased,) and by JACOBSON & Co., of the same place, who are still operating.

In conclusion, we would say there will be a wide field open for this particular branch of home manufacture, as evidenced by the countless acres of pine forests abounding all over the foot-hills of the Sierra Nevada; and which are, no doubt, destined to give future employment to thousands.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

The war news from Gen. Grant's Department is highly interesting. A dispatch from Chattanooga states that Gen. Logan, with the Fifteenth Army Corps, left the vicinity of Huntsville, Ala., some days ago, moving southwardly, and we have rebel accounts of the presence of some of his forces at Lebanon, Ala., some twenty miles south of the Tennessee River. The cavalry expedition under Gens. Grierson and Smith, started from Memphis, moving across the country southwardly. It was understood that these columns were intended to act in conjunction the one to attack, and the other to cut off the retreat of Polk and Forrest, who were scouring Central and Northern Mississippi. This movement was generally regarded as a great flanking movement on Johnston's army. A Nashville dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette says that Gen. Sherman entered Jackson, Miss., on the 5th, the rebels offering but little resistance, and falling back over Pearl River. It was thought that the rebels were receiving reinforcements from Dalton. There was a considerable fight at Clinton, Miss., on the 4th. Our troops charged a rebel battery, and lost 15 killed and 30 wounded. The enemy were driven off, and our troops continued their advance. Another dispatch from Chattanooga says that Gen. Thomas' army is now in motion for Tunnel Hill and Dalton. All these reports indicate a grand combination of movements, having in view the complete redemption of Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia.

A dispatch from Fortress Monroe, dated yesterday, announces, on the authority of Gen. Butler, that Col. Streight and seventeen other officers, who recently escaped from the Libby Prison, in Richmond, by tunnelling under the street, have arrived safely at Yorktown. Over one hundred Union officers escaped at the same time, but the rest have not been heard from.

In the United States Supreme Court at Washington, yesterday, the application for a writ of certiorari, in order to bring the case before that court for revision, was denied, on the ground that there is no law authorizing that court to revise proceedings of a regularly organized military court, convened in time of war, according to the provisions of law and Constitution.

The Admiralty Court of Halifax, yesterday, through Chief Justice Stewart, rendered a final decision in the case of the Chesapeake, restoring the vessel and cargo to the original owners.

The blockade squadron off Wilmington did excellent service recently, in the short period of six days, by the destruction of four blockade-running steamers. On the 4th inst. the Nutfield was destroyed by the Sassacus, on the 5th the Dee by the Cambridge, and on the 10th the Emily and the Fanny & Jennie by the Florida.

GENERAL NEWS.

The Board of Councilmen met yesterday. The Veterans of 1812 petitioned for $100 to pay their expenses of music, dinner, &c., on last 4th of July. They represent that this sum was appropriated for them, according to custom, by the committee to arrange the public celebration, but that they have not received it. Now they ask that it be given to them out of the appropriation to celebrate Washington's birthday. Referred to the committee to arrange the celebration of that day. The resolution containing an appropriation of $7,000 for the use of this committee was taken up and adopted. A motion by M. Jacques, to reduce the amount to $4,000 was lost. The Comptroller reported the receipts into the treasury last week to have been $510,807 27; payments during that time, $523,173 72; balance on last Saturday, $2,199,529 79. He also reported the receipts of the Sixth and Eighth Avenue Railroads for the last quarter of 1863, as follows: October, Sixth Avenue, $33,975 50; Eighth Avenue, $35,684 80. November, Sixth Avenue, $29,848 33; Eighth Avenue, $31,843 01. December, Sixth Avenue, $32,740 71; Eighth Avenue, $35,523. The purport of the resolution amendatory of the Relief Fund Ordinance, adopted at the previous meeting, has been misunderstood. It does not prevent the extension of the benefits of the fund to families of soldiers not resident here at the time of their enlistment, but withholds aid from families of all soldiers not credited to New-York. The board adjourned to Thursday, at 1 o'clock, P. M.

The steamship Ariel, from Aspinwall Feb. 6, arrived at this port yesterday. She brings $452,975 in treasure. The French blockade of the West Mexican coast is announced to be complete, though the steamers of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company are allowed to touch at Acapulco for coal and provisions, and to receive and land mails, but not passengers or cargo. Matters in New-Granada were not exciting, though the insurgents—those opposed to Mosquera since he had gone with his army to conquer the Ecuadorians—had become somewhat troublesome, and had made several successful, though unimportant, uprisings. But as Mosquera had settled his enemies in Ecuador, there was little doubt but that he would be able to put down the feeble opposition to him in his own country.

Provost-Marshal Murray yesterday sent to Fort Lafayette a person calling himself Barker, who by falsely representing himself a Marshal, tried to defraud a Mr. John Thurston out of $600.

An order has been issued from the Adjutant-General's Office, by which permanently disabled soldiers are permitted to report to the nearest Medical Director, be placed in the U. S. Hospitals, and remain there until further action in their cases can be taken.

The Forty-fifth New-York Regiment, recently arrived from the Army of the Cumberland, was formally received yesterday by the Fifth Regiment, and reviewed by the Mayor and Common Council in front of the City Hall.

Gen. Hancock, of the Second Army Corps, visited the Produce Exchange yesterday, and addressed the merchants in the interests of his corps. He was warmly received, and at the close of his address a committee was appointed to take subscriptions to a fund for aiding in the recruiting of the New-York City regiments composing a portion of this gallant command.

Gov. Seymour yesterday signed the bill submitting the soldiers'-voting constitutional amendment to the people. The election will take place on the second Tuesday in March.

The members of the Produce Exchange presented Officer Abraham Bessimer, who was injured while attempting to arrest Mr. Tibbetts, with $500 in five-twenties 6 ₱ cent. bonds, $250 in cash, and sufficient money to purchase a suit of clothes in lieu of those cut to pieces at the Exchange.

The Savings Bank of South Scituate was broken into on Sunday morning, and robbed of $500 in bills of various banks, and about $2,500 in bonds, papers, &c.

It is stated that Atlanta is being strongly fortified against assault, under the superintendence of Joe Johnston, who has his headquarters at that place.

The Chicago Journal has reason to believe that Gen. Sherman is directing his steps toward Montgomery, Ala.

The Forty-fourth-street Cattle market was lightly supplied with animals yesterday, and prices ruled very high—the highest for years. Fair butchers' steers, of 7 cwt., brought 12½c. ₱ lb. for the dressed meat, and 13c. if in good flesh. Some fat animals were sold at 14c., and even 15c. for a few extra fine bullocks. Only 3,225 head were on sale, and about all of them were taken before night. Very few additions are looked for to-day.

Breadstuffs were in more request yesterday, at buoyant prices. An active business was transacted in Provisions and Tallow, which were firmer. Cotton was doing better. Whisky was depressed. Groceries were less freely dealt in. The Freight market exhibits more animation, and rates favored shipowners. Other branches of business presented no really new feature.

There was increased speculation on the Stock Exchange yesterday; the market for Money easy. The continued heavy demand for Gold to pay Customs and the short deliveries among and between the speculators in the Gold Room on William-street advanced the price to over 160 ₱ cent. The attention of the Secretary of the Treasury has been called to the effect of his large accumulations in Gold from Customs upon the market premium, and indirectly on the public credit.

Progress of the Campaign in the Southwest.

The campaign in the Southwest develops in the most auspicious manner, and some of the results which, though foreseen to be necessary consequences of the moves, could yet hardly have been anticipated as likely to come so promptly, already show themselves. We yesterday indicated that the advance of Sherman's column toward Meridian as an objective, might be expected to have the effect of calling off a portion of Johnston's force from Dalton, and that the weakening of the rebel force at that point would in all likelihood be followed by the advance of the Union force from Chattanooga.

To-day we have to chronicle the fulfillment of both of these prophecies. Johnston has been detaching troops to strengthen the forces opposed to Sherman, and there are tidings that the army at Chattanooga is in motion.

Gen. Sherman, following his easterly line of advance parallel with the Southern Mississippi Railroad, has taken possession of Jackson. Jackson is the the capital of the State, forty-four miles east of Vicksburgh, and the point of intersection of the Southern Mississippi and the Memphis and New-Orleans Railroads. It has water highway to the Gulf by Pearl River, which empties into the Rigolets. Gen. Sherman entered Jackson on the 5th inst., meeting with but slight resistance from the rebels, who fell back east of Pearl River.

In connection with the advance of Gen. Sherman's army we have to-day the interesting intelligence of the setting out of another column which is destined to play an important coöperative part in the grand campaign in the Southwest. This is composed of the Fifteenth Army Corps, under command of Gen. Logan. It has advanced from Huntsville, Ala., and crossed the Tennessee River at Larkin's Ferry.

What is the purpose of this movement? The telegraphic report assigns it the object of acting in conjunction with Sherman's force. There is, however, no probability of this. Such a movement of two columns separated by an interval of three hundred miles with the enemy between them, would certainly be in violation of a fundamental military maxim, and would be barely admissible on the supposition that there were no enemy to oppose it. The likelihood is, therefore, that this corps is destined for operation on Johnston's left flank, by a march due east (sixty miles) on Rome, in conjunction with a movement due south of the Army of the Cumberland, on the same point. We throw out this opinion, however, with due diffidence, as indeed becomes those who speculate beyond the range of the larger strategic movements, which are dictated by great controlling principles, and attempt to descend to manœuvres of tactics, which necessarily vary in accordance with varying circumstances.

And now with regard to the third column, namely, the cavalry corps under Gens. Smith and Grierson. At last advices it was moving southward from Corinth, following the Mobile and Ohio Railroad. A few days' marching must bring this force in position to cover the left flank and front of Sherman's column. If successful, it will doubtless anticipate the latter force in the possession of Meridian.

A successful march on the part of Sherman to Meridian would prompt the withdrawal of the rebel force from Mobile, as, in that case, its only railroad communication would be cut in the rear. But this should be expedited by a vigorous demonstration on the part of Banks, as it is of the utmost importance to get immediate command of the two affluents of the Mobile River—the Tombigbee and the Alabama—for the purpose of throwing up supplies to Sherman.

While these movements are going on it is not to be expected that the rebels will be still. Johnston is, however, placed in the unpleasant predicament of being threatened at points which it is equally important for him to protect. If he falls back to oppose Sherman and cover Central Alabama, he uncovers Atlanta to the advance of the Union forces at Chattanooga. If, on the other hand, he falls back to cover Atlanta, Sherman's progress cannot be retarded. The only rebel force known to be in Sherman's line of advance are the two cavalry corps under Forrest and L. D. Lee, lately organized by Gen. Bishop Polk.

The campaign in the Southwest certainly opens with movements of colossal proportions, and their progress will be watched with intense interest. The forces are so placed that encounters may be expected immediately.

Vallandigham in the Supreme Court.

The United States Supreme Court has decided against the application of Vallandigham to annul the sentence passed upon him by the military court. It pronounces that it has no jurisdiction over the case. In other words, that the military authority for the common defence, in time of war, inheres in the Commander-in-Chief to the exclusion of the civil authority.

This is a hard blow upon the Copperheads. There has been no end to the vituperation they have vented against Gen. Burnside and President Lincoln for usurping judicial authority over Vallandigham, which belonged only to civil tribunals. Neither did they hesitate when Judge Leavitt, the District Judge in Ohio, refused the application for a writ of habeas corpus, to pour upon him, even though a Democrat, their foulest venom. He was the miserable tool of a tyrant, a puppet, a minion, a creature destitute of respect for either himself or his station, a perjured betrayer of his trust. The World, the Cincinnati Enquirer, and all the Copperhead organs, fairly reeked for months with the virus excited by the case; and it was emitted with the most indiscriminate spite upon every official who had connection therewith, whether military or civil. We are rather curious to see what will be their demeanor towards the Supreme Court. The majority of that court hitherto, alone of all the functionaries of the Government, have been spared their abuse. This has been owing, we suppose, to an inference, from certain antecedents of the court, that it had proclivities in their favor. But no warrant for this has been found in any utterance of the court since the beginning of the rebellion. In no single instance has its opinion been at variance with the executive action of the President. But in this case the Copperheads did hope for something favorable to their factious ends. The decision will be a sharp disappointment. Will they dare to give their malignity, here too, full play?

We have it, then, authoritatively determined by the highest authority that the military arrest of Vallandigham was not illegal, nor his military trial, nor his military sentence. The people of Ohio, to whom the appeal was made by the sympathizers with Vallandigham by his nomination for Governor, decided, by the unheard-of majority of one hundred thousand, that his arrest and sentence was just and expedient. His case, therefore, has been thoroughly disposed of. Both constitutional law and the popular will agree in sustaining the action of the President.

We have not a doubt that the laying of the heavy military hand upon Vallandigham will figure in history as one of the most decisive and most admirable Executive acts of the war. It was very bold. Nothing like it had ever before been attempted. But it was necessary, and, once convinced of that, Abraham Lincoln was not the man to shrink from the responsibility. Vallandigham was the leader of Northern faction. He was doing his utmost to cripple the Government at the time when it most needed strength. Disaster after disaster had befallen the national arms; the loyal heart of the country was distracted with grief and apprehension; sedition was daily becoming more audacious, more defiant, more dangerous. It was about the middle of April when Gen. Burnside, at Cincinnati, issued his famous Order No. 38, in which among other things it was declared that treason, expressed or implied, would not be tolerated in that department, nor the habit of declaring sympathies for the enemy. Vallandigham soon afterward made a public speech, in which he declared that this military order was "a base usurpation of arbitrary power," that "he despised it, spit upon it, trampled it under his feet, and that he was resolved never to submit to it." Thus he made a direct issue with the Government. It was promptly accepted. The order for his arrest was issued by Gen. Burnside within three days, and was executed the day afterward. On the succeeding day he was arraigned before a court of eight military officers for a violation of Order No. 38. He was convicted, and sentenced to confinement in Fort Warren through the war, which sentence the President commuted to banishment beyond our lines. The issue was clearly made by Vallandigham, and the work was as clearly done by the President. It was effectual. Faction raged furiously for a while, but it soon began to lower its crest, and to take better care to keep within bounds. It for the first time realized that there was authority at Washington which it was not prudent to contend against. From that time Copperheadism languished. It did not lose, perhaps, any of its malignity; but its courage oozed out of it in spite of itself. Without its audacity, faction is nothing.

Vallandigham has made his appeal in vain to the civil tribunals. They have no relief for men who thus array themselves against rightful authority. We trust the poor wretch will now seriously meditate upon his wickedness and folly, and devote the remainder of his life to redeeming his name, as far as possible, from the infamy that now cleaves to it.

Rebel Repudiation.—We published two days since, two articles from the Richmond Enquirer of Feb. 4 and 5 respectively, as well as one from the Whig of the former date, all recommending the Confederate Government to give up all attempts to mend the currency or to impress supplies, but to buy everything they want with cotton and tobacco. The Enquirer says that "the Confederate currency has nearly lost its purchasing power," and that the system of impressment, which was substituted for it, "has almost failed, and in a few months more will have lost its potency altogether." What then is to be done?

The answer to this question, as given by both papers is, that the Government must use the cotton and tobacco now in the country to make its purchases, and that it must allow the people to do the same thing. All restrictions on trade must be removed, and the planters permitted to sell even to the Yankees if they please. "Let us," says the Enquirer, "freely license the export of these prime necessities, and give them free passage through our lines in any direction, and to any markets that individual enterprise may select."

This proposition, we need hardly say, is probably made by way of preparing the public mind for another gross breach of faith on the part of the rebel Government. All the cotton which it has in its hands has been solemnly pledged for the payment of the loan which it raised in Europe last Fall, and the dupes who lent it have had the solemn assurance again and again repeated both of Mr. Memminger, and of his various "financial agents," that not only would it keep in its possession a quantity amply sufficient to pay the debt, but an ample margin to cover all possible losses by the accidents of war, such as seizure by the enemy, or destruction, in order to prevent the stores falling into his hands. If it commences now to dispose of its stock on hand, as well as what it collects in "taxation in kind" from the people, in order to meet its daily wants, and furnish it with the means of protracting the war, it deliberately deprives its creditors of the security which formed their sole inducement to lend the money. This will be a breach of faith of the grossest kind, and the only thing that can be said in palliation of it is, that it is not by any means the first of which the rebel authorities have been guilty. There is not, we believe, in the whole history of finance, a more shameless attempt at fraud than the proposal made by Messrs. Davis and Memminger to repudiate the Government notes by calling them all in as a tax. Nobody but a veteran repudiator would have had the courage to claim for such a device the honor of a "financial expedient." It differs, we need hardly say, only in degree, from the robbery of promissory notes committed on a creditor by the debtor, who had just given them. And the conscription of all those who furnished substitutes under a solemn promise of exemption, is an additional proof that the rebel leaders have long passed out of the region in which obligations or pledges possess any sanctity. There is something amusing as well as melancholy in the impudence with which these very men hold up their hands in horror over the plea of "military necessity," put forward by Mr. Lincoln, for the emancipation of their slaves. It is an additional proof of the truth of the remark so often made, that a new code of morality had grown up in the South for the benefit and protection of Slavery, which promised in another generation to create a moral gulf between the people and those of the rest of Christendom as complete as that between a Hindoo and Scotch Presbyterian.

Amusements.

Academy of Music.—Verdi's favorite opera, "Un Ballo in Maschera," was given here last evening for the first time this season, the cast being the same in all respects as heretofore. The performance was unusually spirited, and was received with great satisfaction by a fashionable and attentive audience. The male members of the company have the best opportunity in this work, and they were especially good last night. We doubt if Signor Bellini, the baritone, has ever been heard to better advantage. The fire and energy, too, of Signor Mazzoleni, created a perfect furore. The barcarolle of the second act had, of course, to be repeated; many numbers, indeed, enjoyed that distinction. Mme. Medori did not seem to be in her usual voice, but seized the dramatic opportunities of the rôle with all her consummate power and tact. Mlle. Sulzer was, as usual, excellent as Ulrica, and Mme. Ortolani-Brignoli sang the page's music very charmingly. The performance, in all vocal respects, was thoroughly acceptable. The orchestra, however, under Signor Nuno, did not quite realize the full effect of the score, owing, of course, to deficient rehearsals.

This opera, last season, would have filled the Academy to its greatest capacity. It has been blighted by M. Gounod, whose "Faust" fills people's heads, and is the rage of the hour. In view of the many demands for the repetition of the latter work, we suspect that M. Maretzek will be compelled to reconsider his determination about shelving it. Even the habitués are asking for it.

On Wednesday, "Il Polluto" will be given for the first time by the artists now at the Academy.

The Hippotheatron.—Mr. James Cooke's new and splendid Hippotheatron continues in the full tide of the well-merited success which such liberality, skill and energetic enterprise entitles it to. The spacious comfort and splendor of the building, the chaste and elegant character of the equestrian, gymnastic and acrobatic performances, their perfect freedom from the slightest taint of coarseness or vulgarity, and the rapidity with which they succeed each other in almost endless variety, conduce to render this establishment worthy of the most liberal patronage and support. The matinée on Saturday was a most elegant affair, the house being crowded by the élite of fashionable society and their families—quite a number of late comers failing in obtaining admission. There will, however, be another matinée to-morrow (Wednesday.) There was a complete change of performances last night, when Mr. Eaton Stone, the daring bare-backed equestrian, and several other artists, made their first appearance. The tournament carnival of old-time sports and pastimes was a great success.

French Benevolent Society.—A grand dramatic performance by all the artists of M. Paul Juigner's company will take place here, to-night, in aid of the funds of the French Benevolent Society. The pieces selected for the occasion are the side-splitting illustration of Parisian life, called "Les Canotiers de la Seine," and the agreeable little comedietta, "Je Dine chez ma Mere." The committee having this entertainment in hand have worked with so much spirit and success that there is no doubt of the pecuniary result. Nevertheless, those who would do a good turn to a most meritorious charity should drop in to-night, and enjoy the double pleasure of a good laugh and a good action.

Mr. Phillips' Lecture.—The fifth of the course of lectures of the Women's Loyal League will be delivered to-night, at the Cooper Institute, by Mr. Wendell Phillips. "Reconstruction" is the theme.

Swindler Arrested.

Philander H. Pease, alias Pennington, alias Livingston, arrested for obtaining a large amount of wool from Riley & Co., by false pretences, was before the Police Court to-day, and, in default of $25,000 bail, committed for trial. He has been identified as the person who, under the name of Livingston, committed some heavy swindling operations in Richmond, Va., about a year ago.

UNITED STATES OF COLOMBIA.

Another Revolution—Battle in Antioquia—The Governor and others Assassinated—The Rebels Defeated—Martial Law Declared in Panama—Ports on West Coast of Mexico Blockaded by the French—Rupture Between France and Ecuador.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Panama, Saturday, Feb. 6, 1864.

The Royal West India Mail steamship Tyne arrived at Aspinwall on the 2d inst. from Carthagena, with dates from that city to Jan. 31, and with private letters from Bogota, the capital, to Jan. 17. The papers contain very little information in regard to the state of the interior. What little we glean is from private advices. The papers say: "The revolutionary movement in Antioquia was a small affair, headed by a priest named Loso, the principal conservative leaders keeping aloof. Some engagements had taken place between the insurgents and the Government troops, ending in the dispersion of the former and the restoration of public tranquillity." But private letters say the insurgents, headed by Joaquin M. Conova, attacked the Government or Mosquera troops in several places and defeated them, forcing them to concentrate in Medellin, the capital of the State of Antioquia, from which they had chased the insurgents who followed them up. We have also the news, pretty well authenticated, that the Governor of Antioquia, Señor Bravo, "allowed himself to be surprised"—in what manner, or whether in command of troops, the letters do not say—"and was assassinated." Señor Camilio A. Echeverri, his Secretary, a talented young man, was also assassinated, as well as Gen. Jose A. de Plaza. The letter says that "Gen. Sanchez attacked the insurgent forces at Manigales," on the Cauca line, "and routed them."

It is evident from the foregoing, that notwithstanding the insurgents based their chances of success upon coöperation from Ecuador, which failed them, they have mustered quite a formidable force, and are at least giving the Government at Bogota a good deal of trouble. In proof that this movement against Gen. Mosquera is no despicable one, we have the information that Gen. Nieto, Governor of the State of Bolivia, had ordered armed launches to guard the mouths of the rivers emptying into the Magdalena, as well as other points on that river, to prevent the coöperation of the State of Santander with the insurgents of Antioquia. There can be no fear, however, of the overthrow of the present Government of Mosquera. No doubt the absence of most of the national troops, who were ordered toward the Ecuadorian frontier, emboldened the Conservatives to take the field; but Mosquera, having finished his Ecuadorian war, will soon find time to take care of his enemies in the rear.

The extra session of Congress, which was ordered for the 1st day of January in Bogota, had not assembled at last date from lack of a quorum. Members were, however, daily arriving, and the Congress would probably commence its regular sittings about Jan. 20. The rumor still obtains that Congress will declare the election of Señor Murillo as President of the Republic by the State Legislatures null, and prolong the term of Gen. Mosquera till an election by the people can be had. Gen. Santos Gutierrez had assumed the office of Governor of Cundinamarca, of which State Bogota is the Capital, and Señor Sergio Camargo has taken charge of the Government of the State of Boyaca. Both are strong friends of Gen. Mosquera.

Hon. A. A. Burton, United States Minister to Bogota, and his excellent wife, were in the enjoyment of good health, and were deservedly very popular with the people as well as with the Government officials at the Capital.

Admiral Bouet, on board French frigate Pallas, at Panama, officially notified the agent of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company here, on the 2d February, that the ports on the west coast of Mexico, viz.: Acapulco, Manzanillo, the port for Colima, San Blas, Mazatlan and Guaymas, are blockaded by a French fleet, and that the ships of the company will be allowed only to touch at Acapulco for coal and provisions, and to land and receive mails, but will not be allowed to land and receive passengers or freight. No other vessels, not even Mr. Roberts' line of steamers, are allowed to touch at Acapulco, or other Mexican ports, at all; but no doubt the prohibition will be removed at the request of Mr. Roberts, so far as his steamers are concerned. This order will affect in some degree the business of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, as their ships carry considerable quantities of goods to Acapulco and Manzanillo, and bring away from the latter port large amounts of specie, cotton and wool. It also destroys the business of Holliday's steamers from San Francisco to Guaymas and Mazatlan, which business has grown to be a large and profitable one. This notification seems to me to be rather irregular and unusual, so far as regards its immediate application. No time is given to deliver the goods already in the Panama Railroad Company's warehouse here and at Aspinwall for Mexican ports, or the goods already shipped around the Horn or across this Isthmus for these points, before the notice was promulgated. But undoubtedly the United States Consuls on the west coast will induce the Admiral to allow such goods to be landed, if they can be shown to be for the usual consumption of the country, and not contraband of war. Notice has been given that the blockade will remain in force until these ports recognize the authority of the Government established in the Capital, when immediate notice will be given to the mercantile community here and elsewhere.

Gen. Santacoloma, Governor of Panama, in view of the unsettled state of the interior, and to enable his officers to gather men for Mosquera's army more readily, has declared martial law in the State of Panama, and ordered out three battalions of infantry, "to be gradually increased to 5,000 men." The increase will have to be very gradual to get this number of men in this State. Indeed, I doubt if 5,000 men for war can be obtained here in five years' hard labor at recruiting. Labor is extremely scarce, both in this city and at Aspinwall, and this order will make it still scarcer; and as every able-bodied man who comes to Panama with produce for the city's consumption will be seized for the army, we all expectito be half starved before Gov. Santacoloma rescinds his order.

A strolling padre came to town from Carthagena last week, took the oath to support the Constitution, and obtained leave to perform mass in the cathedral from the national authorities, but has not yet done so, because all the church property for the use of the ceremony is thine hands of the Bishop, or has been intrusted by him to the United States Consul, who has no order to deliver it up.

We hear nothing more of the small-pox either here or at Aspinwall, but it still prevails in the Island of Taboga, and in some of the straw towns along the line of the railroad.

The French Chargé to Ecuador arrived at Panama this morning, en route for Europe, having demanded his passports from and suspended diplomatic relations with the Government of Ecuador. He declines to make public here the reasons for the rupture, but, no doubt, it has something to do with the treaty lately made between Gens. Mosquera and Flores, after the battle of Cuaspud, in which French coqueting in Ecuador received a cold bath.

The French war-ships Pallas and Diamants and the United States sloop-of-war Cyane are in port. The French vessels go to the Mexican coast.

Nicaragua to Reward the Minister at Washington for Bringing about an Understanding Between the Government and Transit Company—The Coffee Crop—Peru Invites a Conference—The Difficulties Between Buenos Ayres and Montevideo.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Aspinwall, Saturday, Feb. 6, 1864.

The British mail steamship Tyne left Aspinwall this morning for Kingston and Southampton, at half-past 6 o'clock. She left behind all the mails, passengers and specie of the Valparaiso and Lima steamer, which was a day behind her time, but which arrived at Panama at 9 o'clock last evening. The train with those passengers, mails and specie started from Panama at a quarter past 5 this morning, and were here at a quarter past 8. Capt. Leeds was informed and knew he would only have to wait three or four hours to take all these on board, but the Admiralty agent on board ordered him to sail, and he did. The amount of specie is probably half a million of dollars, and must wait here a fortnight. Most of the passengers, fifty in number, will likely go by way of New-York to-day in the Ariel, and the United States Consul at Aspinwall, it is said, will forward the British mails for Europe by that vessel. I reckon the Admiralty Agent will "catch it" when he gets home.

The British propeller Talisman arrived here this morning from Liverpool.

PERU.

The Peruvian Government has invited other American Governments to appoint plenipotentiaries to a congress, to act on matters of interest concerning them all.

Undoubtedly, says the Comercio, the Governments of Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador, which latter has already entered the American community, Bolivia, Chili, and the Argentine Republic will favorably accept the proposal of Peru, but as not all these countries can send their representatives in time, we have learnt the congress will begin its labors as soon as the representatives of Colombia, Bolivia and Chili arrive in Lima, which must be within two months at furthest.

The annexation of Santo Domingo by Spain, the French intervention in the affairs of Mexico, the change made in the institutions of the latter Republic, under pressure of a foreign army, and the aggressive policy displayed by two European cabinets against America in general, make the projected congress a defensive weapon against such imminent dangers.

The Lima Comercio says: "The moral influence of the victory obtained by Colombia over Ecuador has been very favorable to American interests. President Garcia Moreno, who had been begging for French protection, has been put on the shelf, and true Republicans will have charge of public affairs."

The difficulty between Peru and Spain, on account of the Peruvian "denial of justice" in the Talambo affair, is not yet settled, although Peru has offered some concession.

There is no news from Bolivia.

CHILI.

The excitement continues in Government circles in regard to the alleged purchase of three old British war ships by Bolivia, for the purpose, as is said, of making war on Chili on the Mijillone guano question.

On the night of the 15th January, the United States corvette St. Mary's, arrived from Talcahuano.

THE ARGENTINE REPUBLIC.

The position of the Government of Buenos Ayres in its relation to that of Montevideo, becomes every day more critical; every day difficulties arise which render a pacific arrangement more remote.

The Argentine steamer Liberty had received orders from the Captain of the Port of Montevideo not to start for Buenos Ayres; the Captain of the steamer had recourse to Señor Marmol, the Argentine Agent, and, having laid the said order before him, received another in writing commanding him to depart immediately, which he then presented to the Captain of the Port, who in spite of the order of the Argentine Agent, refused to withdraw his own. At nightfall the Liberty set out, the Fort of San José firing at her. To escape from the damage threatened by this fort, the steamer sheltered herself behind an English vessel, until it became at length dark enough to escape.

The Argentine Consul at Montevideo proceeded to take down his flag. This significant act infused alarm in the population of the city.

The Argentine Government is fortifying the Island of Martin Garcia, and concentrating its squadron on that spot.

Notwithstanding all this, the Buenos Ayres papers opine there will be no declaration of war, but that the Government of Gen. Mitre will be contented with taking reprisals upon the ships-of-war of Uruguay; and this is the more likely, as Señor Lamas, the agent of the Uruguay Government, has demanded the resumption of the negotiations interrupted by Marmol at Montevideo. Señor Marmol has been appointed Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary in Brazil.

There is no interest attaching to the news from the other Argentine provinces.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

The Panama Railroad Company's steamship Salvador arrived here from Central American ports yesterday.

We have received papers from Guatemala up to Jan. 21, from Salvador to the same date, Nicaragua Jan. 16, and Costa Rica Jan. 20.

There is no news of importance to record from Central America.

MAJ.-GEN. HANCOCK AT THE PRODUCE EXCHANGE

ENTHUSIASTIC RECEPTION

A PREMIUM FUND TO BE RAISED.

Major-Gen. W. S. HANCOCK, Commandant of the Second Army Corps, Army of the Potomac, visited the Produce Exchange, yesterday, during business hours. He was most cordially welcomed by the merchants in attendance, many of whom were personally introduced to him. He entered freely into conversation with some of the leading business men, and took every available opportunity to impress on those present the urgent necessity of doing their utmost to encourage recruiting, so that our armies may be strengthened and prepared for a vigorous and decisive Spring campaign, which promises to be the final one of the war.

At the close of the regular business hours, Mr. ARCHIBALD BAXTER, President of the New-York Commercial Association, formally called the attention of the merchants to the fact that Gen. HANCOCK was present, and would address them in explanation of the object of his visit. Mr. BAXTER dwelt upon the heroism of the Second Army Corps and its glorious history, paying, in the course of his remarks, a very high tribute to the personal and professional reputation of Gen. HANCOCK, the Commandant of the corps. As the gallant General made his appearance at the Presidential desk, he was most enthusiastically cheered.

Mr. BAXTER announced that the appointment of a secretary to record their proceedings and perform other appropriate duties was the next thing in order. Mr. J. HOBART HERRICK was accordingly nominated, and unanimously elected.

Mr. BAXTER next observed, that from the cordial reception already given to Gen. HANCOCK, it was obvious there was no necessity for a formal introduction of that distinguished officer, who would now address the meeting.

Gen. HANCOCK took his stand on the President's desk, and was again warmly applauded. He expressed his inability to thank the meeting for its friendly attention to him; his voice, he was afraid, was not strong enough to render his words audible all over the floor. However, they must take the will for the deed, and accept the assurance of his most sincere thanks. He was glad to meet such a large crowd of representative commercial men, as they were just the men to whom he was anxious to make known the object of his visit to New-York, as they, of all other classes in the community, could probably most effectually aid him in the attainment of that object. He was authorized by his Government to come North to stimulate recruiting for his corps, which had been detailed for special service, the importance of which would be made manifest in good season. The Spring campaign promises to be the greatest, and to all appearances the last campaign of the war. To make it a decisive one in vindication of the national authority, all over the insurrectionary States, it was necessary that our armies should be promptly and generously reinforced. The symptoms of desperate energy now being shown by the enemy point out unerringly the path of duty to all loyal citizens. We must either serve personally in the armies of the Republic or encourage others to volunteer. Volunteers could be found in abundance to meet all possible requirements, if we could only make it the interest, pecuniarily speaking, of enterprising and faithful agents to hunt them up. We can readily replenish the thinned ranks of our armies by spirited volunteering, which can be brought about by a judicious expenditure of money, to be raised by popular subscription, independent of Government action. He was there as the representative of a corps that had special claims on the attention and gratitude of the people of New-York. Its first Corps Commander was Gen. SUMNER, a citizen of this State; its next leader was Gen. COUCH, a native of New-York; and, in the absence of Gen. HANCOCK, it was worthily commanded by Gen. WARREN, also born in the Empire State. There were nineteen regiments from this State in the Second Corps of the Army of the Potomac. In many of these, he had no doubt, several of his auditors had personal friends. Of all of them the people of this great State should be proud. He had in his command the Irish Brigade, several German regiments, the Tammany Regiment, the Second Militia Regiment, the Fifth, the Sixty-first and other gallant Volunteer Regiments, which he named, as in his appeal published last week, but which we need not repeat. All of them had achieved for themselves a glorious name in history, and most substantial claims to the grateful remembrance of their fellow-citizens. They had never lost a flag, a gun, or he might add, a fight. They had lost since the war began, or since their organization into a corps, as many as twenty-five thousand brave men, and to replace those fallen heroes, with a view to the perfection of the glorious work in prosecution of which they had so intrepidly sacrificed their lives, would require only an energetic patriotic effort on the part of the people of the Empire State. This effort should be promptly made, and it was to stimulate his fellow-citizens to make it thus, that he had called upon them. He said it was not necessary to increase the proportion of bounties to volunteers; these were already probably more than liberal. Money, however, could be judiciously employed in paying a small premium to all parties who would bring into the recruiting depots an acceptable recruit. This had been tried and was being tried in Pennsylvania with the most gratifying results. If a trial were given to this plan of raising recruits here, and the proper agents employed, he had no hesitation in expressing his belief that it would prove a great success; that it would procure for us all the men we want without a draft. Volunteers were plenty enough; they need only be hunted up, and the payment of a small premium to proper agents for each man thus procured for the army, in addition to the liberal bounties offered, would soon enable New-York to fill its quota without resorting to conscription. To raise a fund to enable those having charge of recruiting for the Second Corps to pay this premium, was the main object of his visit to the Produce Exchange. He felt assured that his visit would not be fruitless in this respect—that the merchants of New-York would promptly avail themselves of this opportunity to render an additional and most imperative service to their country. The General, on concluding his important and business-like address, was again lustily applauded.

Mr. BAXTER next announced that a resolution had been offered and duly seconded, which he would ask Mr. HERRICK, the Secretary, to read. It was as follows:

Whereas, The members of the Commercial Association of New-York have heard the address of Major-Gen. HANCOCK, and feel deeply interested in the great work in which he is engaged: therefore, be it

Resolved, That a Committee of five be now appointed by the Chairman to procure funds, with the object of assisting in filling up all of the old New-York City regiments of the Second Army Corps, for special service, to be commanded by Major-Gen. HANCOCK.

When Mr. HERRICK had finished the reading of this resolution, the President formally took a vote on it. It was carried unanimously. The President then appointed the following named gentlemen as the committee provided for in the resolution: Josiah M. Fiske, Edward Cromwell, Henry W. Smith, George L. Cregin, Alfred M. Hoyt. As this ended the business of the meeting, a motion to adjourn was next offered, and carried unanimously.

Generosity at the Produce Exchange.

The members of the Produce Exchange have acted most promptly and most liberally toward Officer ABRAHAM BESSMER, of the First Precinct, who was so badly stabbed recently while attempting to arrest Mr. TIBBETS, who made his appearance at the Exchange armed with knives, and threatening to kill and maim all around him. Since the occurrence, the members have quietly gone to work and raised a munificent sum for Mr. BESSMER, which, by permission of Commissioners ACTON and BENNETT, was presented to him yesterday by Capt. WARLOW. The gift consisted of $500 in Five-Twenties six per cent United States Bonds, $250 in cash, and sufficient money besides to procure a new suit of clothes in lieu of those cut to pieces by the frenzied man's dirk. The action of the gentlemen of the Produce Exchange is most generous and appreciative, and while the whole department will recognize its kind and stimulative character, we may say that to no officer in the department could it have been better applied than to the ever faithful, reliable and courageous ALEXANDER BESSMER. It is pleasant to add, that the friends of the unfortunate Mr. TIBBETS have exhibited the utmost solicitude and consideration for Officer BESSMER, extending to him every kindness and attention in their power. He is getting along well, and will entirely recover from his wounds.

RECEPTION OF THE FORTY-FIFTH REGIMENT.—Early yesterday morning preparations were made for carrying out the programme for the reception of the Forty-fifth New-York Regiment. The neglect shown many of our veterans who have returned from the field being felt, it was determined to partially atone for past coldness by giving the Forty-fifth a grand welcome. Consequently the Fifth Regiment, Col. SPROAT commanding, assembled at 9 o'clock at Washington-square, preparatory to the reception of the heroes. At 11 o'clock, the Forty-fifth, escorted by the Fifth, entered the City Hall Park preceded by Dodworth's Band, and were reviewed by the Mayor and Common Council. This ceremony ended, the veterans proceeded, according to previous arrangement, to FALK'S Broadway Garden, where a very fine collation had been prepared for them. Music, speeches and "a good time generally" followed. The Forty-fifth has been in service nearly three years, during which time it has seen a great deal of hardship and been in many battles. Over three hundred of the men have reenlisted, and are home to enjoy a thirty days' furlough. The old soldiers as they passed through the streets, bearing their flag "all tattered and torn," were greeted by cheers from the throng assembled to do them honor.

AN ADDRESS ON CAMP LIFE.—An address on Camp Life, Winter and Summer, with the Irish Brigade, will be delivered at the Cooper Institute, Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock P. M., by Capt. GASSON, a veteran officer of the brigade, who is full of anecdotal reminiscences illustrative of his chosen topic, and who is, moreover, an excellent speaker. The address will undoubtedly prove most interesting.

DEAFNESS AND CATARRH CURED.
No. 420 SIXTH-AV., NEW-YORK, Dec. 2, 1863.

I was deaf for several years, and hearing of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I was induced to place myself under his care, and I am now happy to state that my hearing was entirely restored after a short treatment. I was also suffering from chronic catarrh, of which I was also cured by the skillful treatment of Dr. Von Eisenberg. I do but justice to the Doctor in stating that in treating me he displayed that skill and knowledge which have already procured for him such a deserved reputation, and that the principles which direct his system of curing Deafness and Catarrh are such as to render success certain, in my opinion. Many months have passed since Dr. Von Eisenberg restored my hearing, and it continues as good as ever.

CATARRH CURED.
READ!

I have been suffering for a long time from a severe Catarrh, with a continual dullness in my head, a tightness across my chest, a weight over my eyes, which were weak, watery, and very painful. My nostrils were constantly obstructed with a pouring fluid. That frequent sneezing, hoarseness of my voice, often attended with a fullness of my throat, great soreness, and a continual disagreeable sufferings. I may, indeed, say that I feel a new life. The treatment of Dr. Von Eisenberg is as skillful as it is successful. It is in my opinion impossible to overrate the benefit I have received at his hands. I heartily recommend any one suffering like myself to place themselves under Dr. Von Eisenberg's care, with a certainty of being speedily cured.

HARLEM, July 30, 1863.

I have been deaf for over TWENTY-FIVE YEARS, and Dr. VON EISENBERG operated on both of my ears without the slightest pain—a thing that I could not believe could be done. I now hear well, and feel as I never felt for the last twenty years. The dexterity and skill with which the operation was performed evince the highest practical ability. I hear perfectly. It is now over a month since the operation, and I continue to feel as well as ever.

WILLIAM LIDDLE,
Harlem, 126th-st., between 2d and 3d avs.

No. 134 ALLEN-ST., NEW-YORK, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

Iconsulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain.

JOHN TAYLOR.

NEW-YORK, July 19, 1863.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.

CHRONIC CATARRH CURED.
READ.
NEW-YORK, March 30, 1863.

"This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull heaviness in the head. I felt my nose completely stopped up accompanied by continual soreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occasional hot flushes, a great tightness of the chest and pain, so much so, that every one thought it was consumption. Having heard of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I consulted him with but little hope of acure. I am now happy to be enabled to add my testimonial to the great number already in the Doctor's possession, as to his scientific and successful mode of treatment, as he has shown in my case that skill and knowledge which have procured for him so great a reputation. I am so entirely restored to perfect health that I do most sincerely recommend all sufferers from CHRONIC CATARRH and SORE THROAT to apply at once to Dr. Von Eisenberg with a certainty of being cured."

We have learned to be astonished at nothing. Years of experience and a correspondence extending throughout all nationalities of the habitable globe have turned theories into facts, and established a basis from which we need not err. We are not surprised at such facts as the following—although the persons who write them are. We know the persons and circumstances, hence feel at liberty to indorse their statements:

"NEW-BEDFORD, MASS., Nov. 24, 1863.

DEAR SIR: I have been afflicted many years with severe prostrating cramps in my limbs, cold feet and hands, and a general disordered system. Physicians and medicine failed to relieve me. While visiting some friends in New-York who were using Plantation Bitters, they prevailed upon me to try them. I commenced with a small wine-glassful after dinner. Feeling better by degrees in a few days I was astonished to find the coldness and cramps had entirely left me, and I could sleep the night through, which I have not done for years. I feel like another being; my appetite and strength have also greatly improved by the use of the Plantation Bitters.

Respectfully, JUDITH RUSSELL."

"REEDSBURY, Wis., Sept. 16, 1863.

"* * * I have been in the army hospital for fourteen months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill., they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. * * * Three bottles restored myspeech and cured me. * * *

C. A. FLAUTE."

The following is from the Manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:

"HAVEMEYER MANSION, FIFTY-SEVENTH-ST.,
NEW-YORK, Aug. 2, 1863.

DR. DRAKE: Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well.

Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE."

"* * * I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.

REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, New-York."

"* * * Thou wilt send me two bottles more of thy Plantation Bitters. My wife has been greatly benefited by their use.

Thy friend,

H. B. KINGSLEY, Cleveland, Ohio."

"* * * The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the kidneys and urinary organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.

CHICAGO AND GREAT EASTERN RAILWAY COMPANY, FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, FOR $2,000,000.

SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS OPENED WITH Messrs. SCHUCHARDT & GEBHARD, Bankers, No. 21 Nassau-st., New-York.

The Chicago and Great Eastern Railway Company now offer for sale one million one hundred thousand dollars of their first mortgage bonds, in sums of one thousand dollars each, maturing in thirty years, bearing interest at the rate of Seven per cent. per annum, payable in the City of New-York, on the first days of April and October, in each year.

These bonds are secured by a first and only Mortgage on the property, income and franchises of the Railway Company, executed to Frederick Schuchardt and Henry Morgan, of the City of New-York, Trustees.

The remaining nine hundred thousand dollars of the Bonds are set apart and remain in the hands of the said Trustees, for the purpose of being exchanged for the indebtedness of the Chicago and Cincinnati Railroad Company, running from La Crosse to Logansport; this effected, the $2,000,000 will form a First and only Mortgage on a line of road 110 miles in length, extending from Chicago to Logansport, where it connects with the Cincinnati and Chicago Air-line Railroad, forming the shortest line by 40 miles, between Chicago and Cincinnati, and by 36 miles the shortest line between Louisville and Chicago.

It will also open, in connection with roads now in operation, entirely new and very direct lines from Chicago to New-York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and all Eastern cities. The distance between Chicago and New-York by this route being shorter than by either of the existing lines via Dunkirk or Buffalo.

The road is now under contract, and the most strenuous efforts are being made to have it open for traffic during the Summer of 1864.

The interest on the Bonds maturing during the progress of the work has been provided for, and will remain on deposit with the Bankers of the Company, Messrs SCHUCHARDT & GEBHARD, No. 21 Nassau-st., to whom the Company refer for further particulars, and where subscription books for this loan have been opened.

PROPOSALS.

PROPOSALS FOR RAISING WRECKS AT NORFOLK, VA., AND IN THE VICINITY.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, Feb. 4, 1864.

PROPOSALS will be received at the Navy Department until the 3d day of March, 1864, for raising or wrecking and removing the materials, and delivering at the United States Navy-yard, Gosport, Va., the wrecks of the following ships, viz.:

Frigates Cumberland and Congress, at Newport News, and Merrimac, near Craney Island.

The small steamer Whitehall, at Old Point.

Frigates Raritan and Columbia, and Line-of-battle ships Pennsylvania, Delaware and Columbus, in the vicinity of the Navy-yard.

Bidders for this contract will take into consideration that the Government requires the frigate Cumberland, and whatever may be on board of her, either public or private property, to be delivered at the Navy-yard, Gosport, Virginia, or at any other convenient place which the Government may designate, without any further mutilation than may be absolutely necessary to raise her.

It will be required by the Government that the contractors commence as soon as practicable on the Cumberland and not to engage or commence on any other wreck, without permission from the Government, until she is disposed of.

The Government will also claim the right of designating the order in which, after the Cumberland, the wrecks are to be raised; also to determine whether a wreck shall be blasted or raised whole.

No sale or appraisement can be claimed by the contractors on any wreck until all the vessels named shall have been removed, and duly received by the commandant, unless by authority of the Navy Department.

No wreck will be considered removed while any portion of keel or floor timbers remains.

All the wrecks, as well as fragments of timber and other material (which may be the result of blasting,) must be deposited at the Navy-yard at such place or places as the Commandant may designate. And such property, after having been received by the Commandant, shall be considered in charge of the United States Government until disposed of agreeably to the specifications of the contract to be made.

All the appliances used in raising the wrecks must be furnished at the expense of the contractors.

The offer must state the rate per centum, or salvage, for raising and delivering each vessel, also for wrecking, the value to be ascertained and determined by two persons to be appointed by the department, and one person to be appointed by the contractors, or on the actual proceeds of a sale at public auction, for the whole or any part, as the department may elect. The offer must be accompanied by the guarantee of responsible parties that the contract will be executed if awarded. The department reserves the right to reject all bids of parties who have not the proper means provided for executing the work, and of annulling the contract if the work is not executed in due proportion to the time fixed for completion. The proposition must also state the time required to do the work.

Proposals will be marked, "Proposals for raising wrecks at Norfolk," &c., so as to prevent them from being opened with other letters.

PROPOSALS.

PROPOSALS FOR TIMBER AND MATERIALS FOR THE NAVY.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR, Jan. 23, 1864.

SEALED PROPOSALS to furnish timber and materials for the navy for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1864, will be received at the Bureau of Construction and Repair, until 10 o'clock of the 22d day of February next, at which time the opening will be commenced.

Proposals must be indorsed "Proposals for Timber and Materials for the Navy," that they may be distinguished from other business letters, and directed to the Chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair.

The materials and articles embraced in the classes named are particularly described in the printed schedules, any of which will be furnished to such as desire to offer, on application to the Commandants of the respective yards, or to the Navy Agent nearest thereto, and those of all the yards upon application to the Bureau. This division into classes being for the convenience of dealers in each, such classes only will be furnished as are actually required for bids. The Commandant and Navy Agent for each station will, in addition to the schedule of classes of their own yards, have a copy of the schedules of the other yards for examination only, from which they may be judged whether it will be desirable to make application for any of the classes of those yards. All other things being equal, preference will be given to articles of American manufacture.

Offers must be made for the whole of the class at any yard upon one of the printed schedules, or in strict conformity therewith, or they will not be considered.

Upon application to the Bureau, to the Commandant of any yard, or to any Navy Agent, the form of offer, of guarantee, and other necessary information respecting the proposals will be furnished.

The contract will be awarded to the lowest bidder who gives proper guarantees, as required by the law of 10th August, 1846. The Navy Department reserving the right to reject the lowest bid, if deemed exorbitant.

The contracts will bear date the day the notification is given, and deliveries can be demanded.

Sureties in the full amount will be required to sign the contract, and their responsibility certified to by a United States District Judge, United States District Attorney, Collector, or Navy Agent. As additional security, twenty per centum will be withheld from the amount of the bills until the contract shall have been completed, and eighty per centum of each bill, approved in triplicate by the Commandants of the respective yards, will be paid by the Navy Agents at the points of delivery, in funds or certificates, at the option of the Government, within ten days after the warrant for the same shall have been passed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

TO-NIGHT AND EVERY NIGHT,
MR. AND MRS. W. J. FLORENCE,
AND
THE TICKET-OF-LEAVE MAN,
THE LONDON TIMES,

speaking of this great moral drama, mentions a fact to which the Provincial Press of Great Britain and Ireland has given confirmation.

"A clerk who absconded from Liverpool with £2,500, the property of his employers, and after visiting many places, arrived at Birmingham, at about 5 o'clock; and, after taking some refreshment, he went to the theatre to while away an hour. As it happened, the piece which was being performed on the occasion of his visit was THE TICKET-OF-LEAVE MAN, and the guilty man seems to have drawn a moral from the representation, for when the scene in which the interview between Hawkshaw, the detective, and the 'Ticket-of-leave man' took place, Parker, the clerk, was so affected that he went out of the theatre, got three envelopes, and sent £1,500 back to his employers."

Oh! the prophetic vision of Shakespeare:

"I have heard
That guilty creatures sitting at a play,
Have by the very cunning of the scene
Been struck so to the soul, that presently,
They have proclaimed their malefaction."

Doors open at 6½; commence at 7½; close at 10½.
